Chaudhary Charan Singh Haryana Agricultural University, Hisar

CCSHAU, HISAR AT A GLANCE

Chaudhary Charan Singh Haryana Agricultural University (popularly known as HAU) is one of the Asia's biggest agricultural university, located at Hisar in the North Indian state of Haryana. HAU was initially a campus of Punjab Agricultural University, Ludhiana. After the formation of Haryana in 1966, it has become an autonomous institution on Feb. 2, 1970 through a Presidential Ordinance, later ratified as Haryana and Punjab Agricultural Universities Act, 1970, passed by the Lok Sabha on March 29, 1970. It is named after India's seventh Prime Minister, Chaudhary Charan Singh. It is a leader in agricultural research in India and contributed significantly to Green Revolution and White Revolution in India in the 1960s and 70s, respectively. The university got appreciation in the shape of the Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR), Best Institution Award (1997) and Sardar Patel Outstanding ICAR Institution Award (2016) and one of the top ranked universities of ICAR (Ranking 2018). It has a very large green campus and has several research centres throughout the state.

ABOUT NAHEP

NAHEP has been formulated by ICAR with a total cost of US$ 165 million (Approx. Rs. 1100 crores). The project is proposed on 50:50 cost sharing basis between the World Bank and the Government of India, implemented by PIU-NAHEP, ICAR, New Delhi. Overall, the project aims to develop resources and mechanism for supporting infrastructure, faculty and student advancement, and providing means for better governance and management of agricultural universities, so that a holistic model can be developed to raise the standard of current agricultural education system that provides more jobs and is entrepreneurship oriented and on par with the global agriculture education standards.

IDP-NAHEP-CCSHAU

CCSHAU, Hisar has been awarded the ICAR-NAHEP project entitled "Strengthening Institutional Capacity to Produce Skilled Professional for Market Driven Agriculture" funded by World Bank and GoI with worth of Rs. 24.83 crores in F.Y. 2017-18 under Institutional Development Plans (IDP) of National Agricultural Higher Education Project (NAHEP).

ABOUT WORKSHOP

Effective Communication Skills are the most important personal skills you can ever develop for your success in life. Life is a series of communications. Those who develop strong communication skills do well in school, secure jobs and promotions and often ascend to the highest levels of leadership in corporations, governments and civic life. People who fail to develop communication skills often have their careers stagnate or plateau in the mid-range. Unfortunately communication skills are either not taught in primary or secondary education or are taught poorly. Communication has been ranked No. 1 skill gap across the country and students are not aware of this gap. It has been realized that strengthening the communication skills of students is the key to improving personality and employment rates after graduation. Luckily, communication and interpersonal skills are something that can be taught, practiced, and constantly improved upon. After reviewing the situation and keeping in view the requirement of the students CCSHAU College of Agriculture Bawal has planned training on "Effective Communication & Interpersonal Skills" to improve students' ability to communicate effectively.
